

ABOUT US

WHY?

We believe in the power of well-trained volunteers to create profound positive change in long-term care communities.

By fostering authentic connections, our volunteers alleviate loneliness and social isolation, significantly improving the quality of life for residents.

NALTCV is your ally in this mission, providing a standardized volunteer workforce complete with ongoing training, support, and collaborative opportunities to strengthen care communities and resident advocacy.

Healthcare professionals play a pivotal role in care communities all over the world, and our collaborative approach ensures quality care is provided by complementing environments with companionship and compassionate care through meaningful social engagement.

The National Association of Long-Term Care Volunteers (NALTCV) is a vital resource embraced by long-term care providers, aiming to increase community engagement through well-trained volunteers. These volunteers collaborate with professional staff to enhance the quality of life for residents.

Beyond training, NALTCV identifies resources and advocates for community engagement.

NALTCV stands as a beacon, fostering collaboration between volunteers and healthcare professionals to impact the long-term care community positively.

VISION

The National Association of Long-Term Care Volunteers (NALTCV) is recognized and embraced by long-term care providers as a valuable resource for increasing community awareness and engagement through well-trained, credentialed volunteers who go on to provide meaningful engagement for the people living and working in long-term care.

MISSION

- Empower a volunteer workforce that makes a positive and measurable impact on the quality of life of the long-term care resident,
- Coordinate with existing programs,
- Spotlight the value of long-term care volunteers,
- Research the efficacy of volunteers to impact both the quality of care and quality of life of the people living in long-term care.
